Description: Students will be in the driver’s seat as they work through typical lawyering tasks faced by a municipal attorney, become familiar with the core functions of research, analysis and drafting memoranda to elected officials at the local government level, and present time-sensitive work product and legal opinions in much the same way as a municipal attorney would communicate with a multimember council, commission or board of aldermen. We will cover five topics each week for two weeks, familiarizing students with the pragmatic side of identifying essential facts and narrowly tailoring the issues through exercises drawn from real-life experience. Each student will develop an awareness of the strong public interest and policy components of municipal practice, while becoming more sure-footed and circumspect in thinking, talking and reacting as he or she would in a typical municipal attorney’s office, sometimes on the eve of a City Council meeting and often under the pressure of deadlines from many sources. Your instructor has been immersed in municipal governance and practice for over 38 years and has worked with cities and other local governments ranging in size from 3000 to 300,000.

Real Estate Practice

Description: This Real Estate Practice course will provide students with a practical working knowledge of the skills necessary to conduct an effective real estate practice upon the completion law school. The class will cover client interviewing, investigating title, drafting documents, analyzing deeds, leasing, litigation of real estate disputes, partition, and foreclosure.

Revised 12/19/2014
Course: Sentencing Skills
Instructor: Jack Williams,
Legal Writing Instructor/Acting Assistant Professor of Law
http://law.olemiss.edu/faculty-directory/c-jackson-williams/
Section: Law 631, Section 18
Times: 8 am to 12:30 pm
Room: 2017
Grading: graded
Enrollment: limit 12
Note: criminal law skills
Description: In this class, students will be introduced to federal and Mississippi sentencing laws and will develop the skill necessary to represent clients in sentencing hearings. Each student will interview a “client” to gather the facts necessary to represent the client in the hearing, prepare a federal sentencing memorandum, and represent the client in both federal and state hearings.

Course: The Strategic Lawyer
Instructor: Judge Kenny Griffis, Adjunct Professor
http://law.olemiss.edu/faculty-directory/kenny-griffis/
Section: Law 631, Section 20
Times: 8 am to 12:30 pm
Room: 1033 (Rare Books Room)
Grading: pass/fail
Enrollment: limit 12
Recommended: Completion of Law 577 Civil Procedure II & Law 600 Evidence
Description: Every case requires a strategy. Every lawyer must learn how to prepare a strategic plan for each case. Every lawyer must be a strategic lawyer. This course will challenge each student to consider how to be a strategic lawyer. We will look at actual Mississippi cases, consider the strategies used, and how different strategies may have resulted in a different outcome. Each student will learn how to develop a case strategy, consider how various alternatives may impact the case, and prepare a strategic plan for a case. We will also consider how to communicate the strategy to the client, and how to update the strategic plan as the case unfolds. This class will also examine several common legal claims from different perspectives, not just as the lawyer for one of the parties. The student will be challenged to consider a tort or breach of contract claim and develop a strategy as the client, the presiding judge, or as a disinterested third party. While a litigator may see no option but a lawsuit, the student will consider the best legal advice based on other considerations (i.e. the cost of legal action, the cost to the business relationship, and the best result).
Course: Wills and Trusts Drafting
Instructor: Don Fruge, Professor Emeritus
Section: Law 631, Section 6
Times: 8 am to 12:30 pm
Room: 2073
Grading: graded
Enrollment: limit 12
Note: business law skills
Prerequisite: Law 516 Wills and Estates
Description: The course will provide an overview of estate planning. It will include the drafting of wills, both simple and complex, and the drafting of various trust documents used in practice. Class discussions will include taxes imposed upon the transfer of assets, powers of appointment, marital deduction planning, life insurance planning, charitable giving, buy-sale agreements, retirement plans and benefits, valuation of assets, and postmortem estate planning.
