

Limited Enrollment Courses

A number of courses offered at the School of Law have strict enrollment limits. Courses typically in this category include skills courses and courses that satisfy the upper level writing requirement. The enrollment limit ensures that each student receives individual attention from the instructor such as feedback on skills exercises and critiques on written work. The enrollment limit also ensures that each student has the opportunity to engage in frequent skills performances and produce multiple drafts of papers. Accordingly, individual instructors cannot add students to such a course above the enrollment limit.
